Village files $10 million lawsuit about landfill

Representing the Village of Antioch, Atty. Ken Clark filed a $10 million lawsuit against Waste Management, Inc., Chemical Waste Management and three of their employees, on Sept. 27.

The village is suing the disposal company etc. on 10 separate counts. Damages asked for on each count range from $15,000 to $10 million.

The counts include such complaints as fraud, contract violations, varied punitive damages and misrepresentation by the defendants.

According to Clark the main thrust of the move is to get Waste Management to act on one of the proposed alternatives by removing the entire dump from the village and filling the site in.

The village and the disposal company for all purposes has just finished a three-year long legal battle that the village won.

One of the results of this battle was the closing of Waste Management's landfill site that is in the village limits.

Sabin to be tried for murder

by GLORIA DAVIS

Judge David Bastian found that there was enough evidence against Dean Richard Sabin, 20, Salem to bind him over for trial in the murders of John and Donna Golden, Pad-dock Lake.

At the preliminary hearing held on Sept. 26, the arraignment on two counts of first degree murder was scheduled to be held in front of Kenosha County Judge Bruce Schroeder on Thursday, Oct. 4.

Schroeder is the same judge who earlier dismissed evidence against Sabin in the case of the Powers Lake arson-caused fires of last February.

According to Kenosha County District Atty. Robert Zapf, the testimony from the crime lab positively stating that 10 of the bullets removed from the Golden bodies came from a 22 caliber rifle owned by Sabin, was the strongest evidence against Sabin to come to light so far.

The other eight bullets removed from the couple came from a rifle owned by Golden and was found near his body.

Sabin's grandmother Margaret Sabin, with whom the accused has been living while attending classes in Kenosha and working at the hardware store in Twin Lakes, testified that her grandson had been with her the entire evening of the murder.

She said she was in the kitchen of the home built on property next to the Golden's and her grandson was in the next room watching tv.

Under questioning she did admit that at times she has been known to take cat-naps. Margaret Sabin also testified that she had removed the 22 calibre rifle tagged as one of the murder weapons to the home of a relative in Milwaukee weeks before the date of the murders.

This was the same house where Sabin was arrested on Sept. 9.

Pedersen returns to birthplace of musical career

Lloyd Pedersen, who brings his show to Antioch Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29 for one weekend only, has a long history of theatre in the Antioch area.

Pedersen made his acting debut at the age of six in the Christmas Show at Hickory School in Antioch. But it wasn't until his sophomore year in high school that the acting bug really bit.

Among the outstanding performance were Pieter in "The Diary of Anne Frank," and the title role in "J.B."

For PM&L, Pederson carried leading roles in "South Pacific," "H.M.S. Pinafore," "The Music Man," "Take Me Along," "Spoon River Anthology" (which he directed) and "The Fantastiks!"

After studying at Northwestern University, he joined the Wayne King Orchestra as featured male vocalist and made several tours.

Pedersen started his own night club revue in 1973 and "The Lloyd Pedersen Show" became so popular that the group found itself on the road 50 weeks a year.

He took his talents to Boynton Beach, Fla., where his show and dance music made The Vintage International one of the hottest night spots in South Florida.

With his move to Los Angeles in 1980, he made a major career change back to acting. He has been featured in productions of "Brigadoon," "Hide and Seek" (for which he won a local best actor award), "In the Boom-Boom Room" with (Julie Newmar) and most recently in "Cabaret."

Four very beautiful girls will join him on stage in the production numbers "Manic" from "Flashdance" and "One" from "A Chorus Line."

They are: Tammy Pedersen, Nicole Kapell, Sue Lopera and Kara Smith, all students at Antioch Community High School, and all, like Pedersen, multi-talented.

Tammy (Pedersen's niece) is a cheerleader at the high school as well as being a prominent local horsewoman; Nicole, Sue and Kara are promising young actresses as well as dancers.

Their work has been choreographed by Kris-Anne Hartnet, also a former student at Antioch High School.

Tickets for the show are available at the State Bank of Antioch, possibly at the door the night of the performance or by phoning (312) 395-3613.

Don't miss "Lloyd Pedersen In Concert," an exciting evening in the theatre.

Stage Review

'Oliver' PM&L's best!

by JEAN RYBICKI

The Tony and Oscar award-winning musical "Oliver" which opened at the PM&L Theater over the weekend started off with a fast pace that kept up throughout the entire play.

The cast has been well-selected from Jonathan Becker in the title role, whose singing and acting talents astounded first nighters.

But Becker was not alone in excellence as each performer stole my heart right down to the youngest of Fagin's boys. You'll have to see the play to understand what I mean when I say that we certainly have a lot of young talent in the area, all so professional too!

Director Lou Jones did a beautiful job as did choreographer Donna Ratke and dance captain, Peter Thelen. Plaudits also go to stage manager Frank DeMarco, pianist Ingrid Lindberg and musical director Chris Lindberg.

Al Smith is a very convincing Fagin and Ken Smouse was so natural a Mr. Bumble, I forgot who he really was.

I loved Stan Peal's Artful Dodger and rightfully hated Larry Bersie as Bill Sikes.

To top all these great performances, the singing that accompanied them was really great.

I just loved Aileen Biel's "I Shall Scream" done as the Widow Corney. As usual Smouse's singing voice was outstanding.

Debbie Grennan did herself proud in her portrayal of Nancy with "Oom-Pah-Pah" a real standout.

Good supporting performances came from PM&L standbys Hank and Ricky Apostle, Patty Workman and Sander Sundberg.

This reviewer would recommend traveling a distance to see this show but will accept no excuse for missing it from anyone professing to like good theater, seeing that it's local.

"Oliver" will continue to run weekends through Oct. 6, curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m., with a special matinee performance on Sept. 30 at 2:30 p.m..

For ticket information call (312) 395-3055 and don't forget the dinner theater packages by calling the Village Pub at (312) 395-3373 or Struggles at (312) 395-9400.

Residents in a small village in Scotland schedule their television viewing according to the tides. At low tide, the nearby mud flats absorb the broadcast "waves."

First Aid

St. Therese Hospital and the Red Cross are co-sponsoring a "Red Cross Standard First Aid Course," OSHA-approved, on Sept. 22 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the hospital's education classroom.

Enrollment is limited. Call (312) 578-2702 to register before Sept. 19. A fee of $6.40 will be charged to cover class materials. Each participant needs to bring a blanket and self-addressed envelope to class.

Cancer Check

This year one out of 11 women will find out she has breast cancer; and, about 34,000 women will die from the disease.

Although there's no way to guarantee that you won't be that "one" in 11, there are steps women can take to detect it in the early stages. One way, is to attend Good Shepherd Hospital's new educational program on breast cancer detection methods.

To register for the program, call (312) 381-9600, ext. 5366, between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m., weekdays.

Nylon was first introduced to the public in 1938. Research chemists of the DuPont Laboratories made this material by combining water, air and a by-product of coal.

Antioch Area Seniors to hear Rehab talk paired and will be conducted by a speech and language pathologist from Lake Forest Hospital.

The course will include work in listening skills, lipreading drills, strategies for lip reading in difficult situations and information on hearing aids. Anyone who has experienced some hearing loss will find the course helpful.

The center is offering the course to area seniors for the cost of $5 per person. The course, which normally costs $70 per individual, is available at this low cost due to the generosity of the Antioch Lions Club which is underwriting much of the cost of this course.

Any area senior who is interested in registering for this course is urged to contact the Antioch Area Senior Center at (312) 395-7120 as soon as possible. Registration is limited to 10 people.

Offer help for disabled voters

Disabled Voters who find going to the polls on election day difficult may take advantage of a program offered by the County Clerk's Office intended to make voting easier for this group, according to County Clerk, Linda Hess.

The program, known as the "Disabled Voter Plan," is available to voters who are disabled, or who are residents of nursing homes and are not able to go to the polls on election day.

Under the plan, the Disabled Voter, will automatically receive applications for absentee ballots for every election during a five year period.

The voter will only be required to obtain a physician's certificate once instead of for each election as is currently required under Illinois law.

"Any voter who is interested in this program should request an application from our Absentee Voting Dept. at (312) 689-5912," Hess said.

"After the application has been accepted, we will issue the voter a permanent identification card which will be valid for five years," she added.

There are 700 voters participating in this program in Lake County.

Energy moves through windows in one of two ways: conduction (heat or cold travels through any material) and infiltration (air leaks through the cracks). Instead of a window frame constructed of one material that conducts heat or cold, thermalized aluminum window frames have an insulator in the center so that heat or cold will not be conducted through the frame as efficiently. High quality thermalized aluminum replacement windows have high energy efficiency and could save you dollars.

TRENCH MOUTH

Q. Is it true that trench mouth is catching?

A. Quite the contrary. It's not even catching by kissing. Perhaps this belief is so widespread simply because the condition is often found among college students and young military recruits. It was widespread among World War I soldiers (thus the name "trench" mouth).

Trench mouth, also known as Vincent's disease or necrotizing ulcerative gingivitis, is caused by certain invading bacteria present in most mouths most of the time. The treatment is gentle cleaning by a dentist, who also may be oxygenating agents or, if the case is severe, antibiotics. Cleanliness is essential, so once the infection clears up, careful oral hygiene must continue or trench mouth may recur and do permanent damage to vital, teeth-supporting tissues.

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: Oct. 4, 1934

A song titled "Credo," written by Antioch resident Mary Maplethorpe, was set for broadcasting by the National Radio Broadcasting Co.

The cast of "Crazy Politics," a master stage show being produced by The Episcopal Guild, was growing. Set for production were 21 high school girls, 36 singing politicians headed by Antioch's Mayor George Bartlett and 12 children.

A representative of each high school grade was appointed to report on interesting high school news. Agnes Christensen was set for senior news, Marvin Fennema, junior news, Harold Gaston, sophomore news, and Mary Sibley, freshman news.

The 11th annual Antioch Country Fair opened with the three-day affair set to draw the largest crowds to date.

Fifteen tables of bridge were played at the Eastern Star party. Winning prizes were Mildred Byrnes, Mrs. Robert Webb, Mrs. G. W. Jensen, Mrs. Ernest Brook, Mollie Somerville, Mrs. W. C. Petty and Herman Vos.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: Oct. 7, 1954

At the dedication of the new addition to the Antioch Grade School, County Supt. W. C. Petty advised that the school had reached size capacity and when more room should be deemed necessary, new school buildings, not additions were advisable.

Fred Swanson, proprietor of the Antioch Theater was crowned a 33 Degree Mason.

Plans for a new Lutheran Church to be built on the south side of the village on Main St. were revealed.

The Wigwam, the Antioch Township youth center above Reeves Drugstore, had an open house to fete its two new rooms.

Antioch Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen suggested a compulsory number systems for homes in the subdivisions in the area to make them easier for the fire department to find.

The Sorenson Bait shop was burglarized. The loot was valued at over $1,000.

Members of the Antioch Methodist Church were considering the sale of the parsonage.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce suggested a volunteer police patrol to help stop retail burglaries in the village.

"The Cain Munity" was playing at the local theater.

TEN YEARS AGO: Oct. 9, 1974

Walt Shepard was hired by the Antioch Village Board to serve as the village's superintendent of public works.

Although Mike Jones made a touchdown for the Sequoias to start the Antioch-Lake Zurich off on the right foot, the Sequoias lost 29-12.

Román Vos, president of the Antioch Jaycees, was spearheading a drive to collect 500 books filled with Green Stamps to go for the benefit of a camp for handicapped children.

Arthur Conan Doyle, author of the Sherlock Holmes stories, was an ophthalmologist by profession.

When I think about it Dance to liars' tune

by GLORIA DAVIS

I ask you, who or what can a person believe in in this age of great mass communication?

Let's cross out the bare-faced liars and their deliberate attempts to tarnish the truth. What we're discussing here are the day to day bits of information that constantly assail our ears and eyes, imparting volumes of misinformation, gems of screwed-up knowledge and misleading promises that are apparently passed along in good faith or with an "it's to be expected attitude."

The way things are going and presuming that Pinocchio's nasal growth-experience was a real-life happening, most people should be walking around with noses to their knees.

I'm not referring to anything connected with my job as a newspaper person. There I can honestly say that I and all others of my profession whom I have come in contact with, do all in their power to "tell it like it is."

It has been my experience that when the words don't add-up that way it can usually be chalked up to human error.

The media is dependent on "creditable sources" and when they go sour, well what can I say?

You must also remember that every printed word passes through several hands before it sees the light of your breakfast table.

And you remember the old telephone game you used to play when you were a kid -- no excuses -- it shouldn't be that way, but it sometimes (hopefully on a dwindling basis) is.

What we're talking here are those things that not only make one into a "Doubting Thomas," but serve to confuse the issues so much that it's really hard to tell which party is which or which candidate really believes as you do, so that on election day one might begin to feel that it really wouldn't matter if you just closed your eyes and chose at random.

Take for example the way that the politicians tear at each other's policies before a primary, seemingly believing the exact opposite of one another and then jump on the (heretofore hated) winner's bandwagon in a party unity ploy. It's positively ludicrous.

I'd love to see a political version of "To Tell The Truth" on TV with the candidates connected to lie detecting machines while answering questions from Mike Wallace, Dan Rather and William Buckley.

Even "straightforward" Ms. Ferraro might duck that one, not just because of her political candidacy but simply on the grounds that she's a woman.

Is there a woman alive who hasn't at one time fibbed a little to her husband about the cost of a new dress?

Come on now, tell me you've never verbally subtracted just a teeeeny bit from your weight, age or dress size.

Speaking of "tribs," what we used to name so-called half truths when I was a kid, back in the stone age, I'd be very surprised if you could show me a man who hasn't stretched his accomplishments before a girl friend, done the same concerning sexual conquests for the consideration of his male friends, "sniggled" on his income tax or expense account or embellished the size of a fish he has caught or the deer he has shot.

Or else I just haven't noticed an extra bright star shining in the east lately.

But forget about those inconsequential things like who will be running our country, how old I am or whether or not that was a whale your husband caught in the local lake last week, let's consider those lies that might have really serious consequences.

Look and listen to the commercial pitches we are constantly subjected to. According to those barkers, if I don't choose the soap that makes my husband's shirts the whitest I'll probably find myself in divorce court. And how can one choose from a field of thousands where every soap is the "best?"

Wouldn't it be great if everytime one of those commercial-types made exaggerated claims for a product a larger blister would appear on their forked tongues and their product would self-destruct before God and the consumer.

That's like Uncle Sam promising you a permanent "sweet station" for enlisting in the armed services. You bet your bippy you'll find yourself in Waikiki for the entire hitch -- only if you requested the North Pole that is!

So what's a poor gal or guy to do when they simply haven't got time to research all these things thoroughly, seemingly the only way to really find out what the truth of the pudding really is?

As Mark Twain once said, "Why shouldn't truth be stranger than fiction, fiction has to make sense."

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

It's good to see Warren Polley back at the high school. If being sick results in looking as good as he does with that weight loss, there's even something good about being sick.

Airman Donald Borst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Borst has graduated from an aircraft maintenance course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, earning college credits towards an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Another knowledge seeker after a fine education is Edward Paul Esser, son of Mrs. Marie Esser, Antioch and Edward Esser, Round Lake Beach, who just enrolled in his eighth grade at Northwestern Military and Naval Academy, Lake Geneva.

Old Annie Mae is looking forward to ACHS's homecoming activities this week, especially the Mr. ACHS Contest. This is really male chauvenism in reverse.

Condolences to William Petty and family on the death of that lovely Lillie.

How about that Lloyd Pedersen! Antioch can certainly be proud of such a very professional entertainer. It was cute seeing him working with his young niece, Tammy, an ACHS pom pon girl.

I sure hope the historical society can solve the problem in getting the bell tower on top of the Old Grade School. It would look so nice up there.

According to Todd Maplethorpe, the parking on Main St. will be interrupted for about a month starting today. There will be repair work done on the gas mains on both sides of the street from Park Ave. past Ebb Tides. I guess a little inconvenience is the price we pay in maintaining things correctly.

Next week is National 4-H Week. Be looking for displays and talks being given by members of that long standing worthwhile organization.

"I believe in the discipline of silence and could talk for hours about it."

CPR Class

A cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered as a public service at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rte. 59 in Lake Villa, Saturday, Oct. 13, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the community room.

Registration fee is $2 and must be paid no later than Friday, Oct. 5. Call (312) 578-2702 for more information. Class will be limited to 20 participants.

The class will be taught by instructors certified by the American Heart Association. This public service education program is sponsored by St. Therese Hospital and the Northern Illinois Emergency Physicians (NIEP) who staff the hospital's Emergency Room in Waukegan and the emergency satellite in Lake Villa.

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation is a life-saving procedure which can be performed by an individual(s) not set minds at ease? Go ahead; invite the neighborhood gang to join in the Halloween hilarity at someones house. With a little advanced planning, a house party needn't be a hassle. Chicago Heart Assn. has some tips on how to make the occasion heart-healthy as well as festive.

When was the last time the witches, pirates, Darth Vaders and gremlins on the block tried to bob for apples? It may sound a bit old fashioned, but just wait for the laughter to sound when the "going" gets tough!

Looking for something different? Something with a slightly foreign flavor? Hang a pinata filled full of surprises like fresh apples or oranges, bags of homemade pumpkin seeds or gorp (a mixture of raisins, unsalted peanuts and chocolate chips) and applesauce-raisin muffins along with some small toys and hard candy.

Be sure and stand back to avoid the scramble for goodies once the pinata breaks! For time to set out the snacks, try a "Trick or Treat" Halloween hunt. Stash things (the same type as used in the pinata are good) in one or two rooms of the house or backyard.

Make a list of what is hidden and give to each person or group. Turn them loose. While they "hunt" prepare the table.

The key here is simplicity. Some ideas include pumpkin-pecan bread, pumpkin cookies and Halloween clowns. Clowns can be made using ice milk, frozen yogurt or sherbet. Whichever is chosen, place a single scoop in a bowl or on a plate, top with a regular cone and make "faces" using hard candies.

To quench the goblins' thirst, be sure to have plenty of refreshing orange juice, grape juice or apple cider on hand.

During the mid 1700s, historians estimate two thirds of all tea drunk in England was smuggled into the country to avoid the high import tax.

Sabin

established at the hearing after testimony given by Roger Mertes, a co-worker of John Gelden.

Mertes stated that he had called the Gelden residence from 7 to 9 p.m., on Sept. 3 to discuss a meeting time for the next day for the car pool they shared in driving to work. After receiving no answer he also called at 5:30 a.m. the next morning and still did not get a hold of either Gelden.

The son, James, found the bodies of his parents at 6:30 p.m. on Sept. 4. James left his parents at 7 p.m. on Sept. 3. The Geldens were found wearing the same clothing the next day and the beds had not been slept in.

The lines leading to the three phones in the Gelden home had been cut and there was a fourth portable phone that worked off of the other phones.

As far as Sabin's motive, Zapf said that it was becoming increasingly more apparent that burglary or an argument could have been the reason Sabin allegedly shot his neighbors.

There had been an on going argument between the couple and the accused about Sabin riding a dirt bike in the same area where the Geldens kept their horses.

Zapf confirmed that there were some bullet holes in parts of the Gelden house and that the police had found Gelden's binoculars in Sabin's room.

It is not known just how long they had been missing from the Gelden residence.

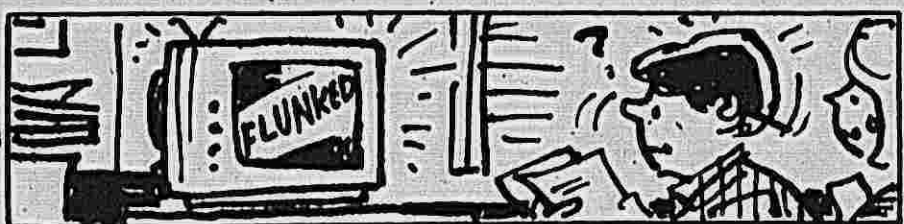

Friends have reported that Donna had voiced a fear of Sabin ever since someone burglarized her home sometime before the murders.

The fact that five shell casings found at the murder scene matched one in the sheriff's file listed as having come from the same rifle used by Sabin when he accidentally shot himself at his grandmother's home last summer was what led the police to Sabin.

The possibility that the murderer shot Donna first and then John as he came in from outside, trying to dodge the bullets by diving under the pool table has reportedly been considered by investigators.

Advisory committee seeks consumer representatives

Lake County residents with knowledge of or interest in the continuing development of community services in the areas of mental health, drug and alcohol abuse or developmental disabilities are encouraged at this time to apply for membership on the Lake County Advisory Board and Coordinating Council for Mental Health, Substance Abuse, and Developmental Disabilities Services (AB/C Council).

The council serves in an advisory capacity to the Lake County Board of Health and also serves as a coordinating council for these services in Lake County.

Interested persons should call Ginny Fagen, AB/C Council Coordinator, at (312) 689-6704 or address inquiries to the AB/C Council office, 2303 Dodge Ave., Waukegan 60085.

THE COUNCIL attempts to maintain in its membership a balance of geographic areas of residence, racial and ethnic groups, gender, age and areas of interest.

Members are representative of providers, consumers and interested citizens.

At this time, the council is particularly interested in receiving applications from consumer representatives.

The AB/C Council has developed a comprehensive plan for mental health, substance abuse and developmental disabilities services in Lake County and is in the process of writing a new plan for 1985-1987.

MEMBERS annually review and comment on Grant-in-Aid requests submitted by Lake County agencies to the Illinois Department of Mental Health/Developmental Disabilities (DMH/DD).

In this way, the council helps to assure that State funding is secured and utilized by community agencies to address the priority needs of Lake County individuals. The council also received and reviews proposals for Lake County Board of Health grant awards to community agencies.

Community members are also encouraged to participate in council committees, which deal with single disability areas (mental health, substance abuse or developmental disabilities) or with a single area of interest common to all three disability groups (legislation, planning, grants).

One does not need to be a council member to participate on a council committee.

"The council offers opportunities for cooperation between professionals, agencies and consumer representatives; collaboration to achieve common goals; and coordination of comprehensive services at the county level," said Orville J. Lips, Ph.D., chairman of the AB/C Council.

"These are keys to successfully serving the community in this period of relatively fixed resources, which is challenging us to find innovative ways to finance and provide services. The Council offers community members a chance to participate in the on-going development of a community-based of comprehensive services," he concluded.

Workplace stress among medical program topics

Today's modern environment and fast-paced lifestyles lend themselves to an increase in stress for many people. While a certain amount of stress is a natural part of daily life, increased stress takes its toll on interpersonal relationships, physical condition, and mental outlook.

To better understand the effects of stress, The Medical Center of Lake County, Condell Memorial Hospital, is offering a four-week series on stress with particular attention on the definition of stress, how it is felt at home and at work, and how it relates to adolescence.

This free series begins Monday, Oct. 1, when Dr. Charles Colodny, a specialist in family practice on Condell's medical staff, discusses the topic "What is Stress?"

On Monday, Oct. 8, Dr. Timothy Ts'o, a specialist in psychiatry on the hospital's medical staff, discusses "Stress at Home," while Dr.

John Larson, also a specialist in psychiatry on the hospital's medical staff, discusses "Stress at Work" on Monday, Oct. 15.

Finally, the last session on Oct. 22 offers Dr. Yusef Hakimi, a specialist in child and adolescent psychiatry on Condell's medical staff, addresses the issue of "Stress and the Adolescent."

All programs begin at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's cafeteria. For more information, call (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275.

Registration ends Oct. 8. For more information, call the St. Therese Hospital Education Department between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday at (312) 578-2702.

Cancer Society plans investigation

Volunteer's in the South West Lake Unit of the American Cancer Society will turn into detectives during September according to Gloria Spiess, R.N., who is the chairman of the American Cancer Society's Cancer Prevention Study II, for the South West Lake Unit of the Society.

"More than 430 volunteers will take part in the first follow-up for clues in the largest investigation of its kind ever undertaken in the country," she said.

The Society's South West Lake Unit Board Chairman, Rev. Philip Nelson, is one of five volunteers acting as a group chairman to help coordinate this massive research program in the south west section of Lake County.

MARGE Gentry, Fredrick E. Volters and Francis Wilkins are also working with Spiess as group chairmen to initiate the efforts of the 24 ACS volunteers who were trained as researchers for Cancer Prevention Study II.

The researchers are now contacting 402 South West Lake area subjects in the study.

Nationally, more than 1.2 million Americans will have their lifestyles examined to provide information about possible relationships of cancer to such personal and environmental factors as nutrition, medication, occupational exposures, pollution, low-level radiation, low tar and nicotine cigarettes, and passive smoking.

In Illinois, close to 5,000 volunteer researchers will begin their first CPS II follow-up on 70,000 subjects who have given clues to their lifestyles by answering 400 items in a confidential questionnaire about what they eat, drink, and how they work and live.

THIS IS the first tracking effort on the subjects who were enlisted in the research program in September of 1982 and who will be followed for at least six more years by trained ACS volunteers.

Spiess, explained, "The Society's first Cancer Prevention Study (1959-1972) was instrumental in informing the American public about the dangers of smoking. The study identified cigarettes as the culprit behind lung cancer and heart disease. This is a fact that we take for granted these days, but documentation was still meager until then."

"At this time of great public concern over possible environmental causes of cancer, there is a definite need for a study that has the scope of Cancer Prevention Study II," she continued. "With rumors flying that just about everything causes cancer, the study will help identify which factors really do pose a serious threat to our health."

"Are x-rays safe? Can the birth control pill do more harm than good? How dangerous is that morning cup of coffee? These questions and many others hopefully will get answered by the study findings, and perhaps shed light on what can be done to reduce our risk of cancer and other diseases," she added.

During September's follow-up, Spiess explained, "These volunteers will check with individuals they enrolled to verify addresses and any name changes. They will also report on the deaths of any study participants since the start-up. This information will update the CPS II data bank, which stores all the information contained in the questionnaires."

"We intend to keep track of all participants during the 6 year course of the study" said Spiess. "Because of the energy and dedication of volunteers involved in the study, and the overall interest in cancer prevention expressed by the participants themselves,

Fitness Classes to start Oct. 29

Approximately 400 people are involved in Feelin' Fit's Fall I Session. The participants had a selection of classes, including aerobic dance, kid's fitness, body shape and trim, coed exercise, building blocks for tots, and ballet for both adults and children.

All of the instructors are certified and trained and are very concerned about safety and effectiveness in all of the various programs.

The new Fall II Session will begin the week of Oct. 29. For more information, call Feelin' Fit at (312) 356-9641.

Free Blood Check

Free blood pressure screenings will be offered by Victory Memorial Hospital volunteers from 1 to 3 p.m., Oct. 1 in the hospital lobby, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan. Appointments are not needed.

Left untreated, high blood pressure (hypertension) increases the risk of premature illness or death from stroke, heart or kidney failure, or from coronary heart disease.

Readathon marks 10th anniversary

This month the 10th anniversary of the Multiple Sclerosis (MS) Read-a-thon, a program for schoolchildren sponsored by the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Since 1974, MS Society chapters have enrolled 17 million youngsters who have read an estimated 70 million books and raised over $65 million for multiple sclerosis.

Offered to Chicago and suburban schools each fall and spring, local MS Read-a-thon programs since 1978 have earned over $1,029,800 for MS research and services.

CORRECTION

Because of a source mistake, the Antioch News was misinformed and reported that there were two passengers in the car driven by Arthur Wertz that was involved in a fatal accident on Rte. 173, on Sept. 21.

A recheck with the original information source the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. revealed that all three passengers were riding in the pick-up truck that was struck by the Wertz car when it went into the other traffic lane.

Although the sheriff's report states that Wertz had suffered a stroke previous to the time of the accident, Lake County Dep. Coroner Lloyd DeTienne said, "At the present time there is no evidence to show the Mr. Wertz suffered a stroke at the time of the accident."

CPR Class

A cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered as a public service at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rte. 59 in Lake Villa, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 13, in the community room.

Registration fee is $2, and must be paid no later than Friday, Oct. 5. Call (312) 578-2702 for more information. Class will be limited to 20 participants.

The class will be taught by instructors certified by the American Heart Assn. This public service education program is sponsored by St. Therese Hospital and the Northern Illinois Emergency Physicians (NIEP) who staff the hospital's Emergency Room in Waukegan and the emergency satellite in Lake Villa.

SINCE 1974, children in the chapter area enrolled in the read-a-thon have numbered in excess of 168,000 and have completed more than 1,606,900 books.

The MS read-a-thon was designed to instill a love of books in boys and girls from first through eighth grades while giving them a sense of accomplishment through doing something for others less fortunate themselves.

The concept of "reading for the need of others" was based on the idea that, given the opportunity, boys and girls learn that reading books is fun. Also, children everywhere love a good mystery. Their part in the read-a-thon is viewed as a contribution toward solving the mystery of multiple sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system for which no cause or cure has been found.

Each young volunteer, it was believed, would leap at the chance to be a "Mystery Sleuth" to help solve the mystery of multiple sclerosis.

EACH "MYSTERY Sleuth" signs up adult sponsors to donate a certain amount for each book they read.

Of each dollar raised, 60 cents helps people in the MS Chapter area who already have multiple sclerosis. The other 40 cents goes towards funds so desperately needed for research to find a cure for the disease.

As a small pilot project in 1974, the read-a-thon program covering two counties in the Cleveland area grossed about $18,000 with expenses less than $2,000. The program was soon expanded to nationwide scope with most of the society's chapters setting up read-a-thon programs in their own school districts.

Since then the read-a-thon has been endorsed by nearly 50 prestigious educational organizations and agencies including the U.S. Office of Education, the International Reading Assn., the American Assn. of School Librarians, the Children's Book Council, and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Nearly 200 new cases of multiple sclerosis are diagnosed each week in the U.S. An estimated 250,000 Americans have the disease. Since 1946, when the Society was founded, it has spent some $65.3 million on research. It is currently funding 99 research grants with long-term commitments of nearly $15.7 million.

Information on the read-a-thon and services to men and women in the area who have MS is available from the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, NMSS, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 60604. Phone: (312) 922-8000.

Fourth Army formally comes to Ft. Sheridan

The historic Fourth U.S. Army was formally activated at a large military ceremony Oct. 1 at Fort Sheridan.

Hosted by Gen. Robert Sennewald, commander of the U.S. Army's Forces Command, the ceremony included remarks by Secretary of the Army John O. Marsh.

Also in attendance were several members of Congress and other high ranking civilian and military dignitaries.

THE NEW Fourth U.S. Army will be under the command of Lt. Gen. Edward C. Peter who comes to the new assignment from the Pentagon where he was the assistant deputy chief of staff for personnel.

In August 1983, the Dept. of the Army unveiled plans aimed at reducing the active component management structure and giving the Army National Guard and Army Reserve additional responsibilities, thereby increasing the efficiency of the Total Army.

Its plans called for phasing in the new organization over a three year period.

According to Army officials, the Army National Guard and the Army Reserve have grown in size, competence and capability over the past five years. They view the reserve components as essential elements in the national defense and continue to place increasing importance on them.

THIS CHANGE will streamline the organization by eliminating one layer of supervision.

Nine Army Readiness and Mobilization Regions which have been subordinate headquarters to the Continental Armies have been eliminated, and two new Armies, Fourth and Second Armies have been created bringing the total number of Continental United States Armies to five.

Much of the increased responsibility after the reorganization will be placed in the State Adjutants General and major U.S. Army Reserve Commands, such as the 425th Transportation Brigade located at Fort Sheridan, and the 86th U.S. Army Reserve Command based in Forest Park.

The current reorganization started in 1983 with the activation of Headquarters, Second U.S. Army at Fort Gillem, Ga., entered a second major phase with the provisional activation of Fourth United States Army at Fort Sheridan on July 2, and refinements and modifications will continue into Fiscal Year 1986.

With minor exceptions, the new Continental U.S. Army's boundaries will align with current Federal Emergency Management Agency region boundaries.

This will optimize the span of control and facilitate planning, coordination of disaster assistance operations and land defense of the United States. Fourth Army's area includes the states of Illinois.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Husband and Father, Melvin J. Wohlfeil, who passed away one year ago, September 29th, 1983.

The very echo of your name
The memory of your smile
The little things you said and did are with us all the while
We miss those wonderful nights of pinochle games. The ache is still there, but we know God needed you more than we did. Your family and friends miss you more every day. With emptiness in our hearts, and tearful eyes, we miss and love you very much Pa, Always.

Readathon marks 10th anniversary

This month the 10th anniversary of the Multiple Sclerosis (MS) Read-a-thon, a program for schoolchildren sponsored by the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Since 1974, MS Society chapters have enrolled 17 million youngsters who have read an estimated 70 million books and raised over $65 million for multiple sclerosis.

Offered to Chicago and suburban schools each fall and spring, local MS Read-a-thon programs since 1978 have earned over $1,029,800 for MS research and services.

SINCE 1974, children in the chapter area enrolled in the read-a-thon have numbered in excess of 168,000 and have completed more than 1,606,900 books.

The MS read-a-thon was designed to instill a love of books in boys and girls from first through eighth grades while giving them a sense of accomplishment through doing something for others less fortunate themselves.

The concept of "reading for the need of others" was based on the idea that, given the opportunity, boys and girls learn that reading books is fun. Also, children everywhere love a good mystery. Their part in the read-a-thon is viewed as a contribution toward solving the mystery of multiple sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system for which no cause or cure has been found.

Each young volunteer, it was believed, would leap at the chance to be a "Mystery Sleuth" to help solve the mystery of multiple sclerosis.

EACH "MYSTERY Sleuth" signs up adult sponsors to donate a certain amount for each book they read.

Of each dollar raised, 60 cents helps people in the MS Chapter area who already have multiple sclerosis. The other 40 cents goes towards funds so desperately needed for research to find a cure for the disease.

As a small pilot project in 1974, the read-a-thon program covering two counties in the Cleveland area grossed about $18,000 with expenses less than $2,000. The program was soon expanded to nationwide scope with most of the society's chapters setting up read-a-thon programs in their own school districts.

Since then the read-a-thon has been endorsed by nearly 50 prestigious educational organizations and agencies including the U.S. Office of Education, the International Reading Assn., the American Assn. of School Librarians, the Children's Book Council, and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Nearly 200 new cases of multiple sclerosis are diagnosed each week in the U.S. An estimated 250,000 Americans have the disease. Since 1946, when the Society was founded, it has spent some $65.3 million on research. It is currently funding 99 research grants with long-term commitments of nearly $15.7 million.

Information on the read-a-thon and services to men and women in the area who have MS is available from the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, NMSS, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 60604. Phone: (312) 922-8000.

Fourth Army formally comes to Ft. Sheridan

The historic Fourth U.S. Army was formally activated at a large military ceremony Oct. 1 at Fort Sheridan.

Hosted by Gen. Robert Sennewald, commander of the U.S. Army's Forces Command, the ceremony included remarks by Secretary of the Army John O. Marsh.

Also in attendance were several members of Congress and other high ranking civilian and military dignitaries.

THE NEW Fourth U.S. Army will be under the command of Lt. Gen. Edward C. Peter who comes to the new assignment from the Pentagon where he was the assistant deputy chief of staff for personnel.

In August 1983, the Dept. of the Army unveiled plans aimed at reducing the active component management structure and giving the Army National Guard and Army Reserve additional responsibilities, thereby increasing the efficiency of the Total Army.

Its plans called for phasing in the new organization over a three year period.

According to Army officials, the Army National Guard and the Army Reserve have grown in size, competence and capability over the past five years. They view the reserve components as essential elements in the national defense and continue to place increasing importance on them.

THIS CHANGE will streamline the organization by eliminating one layer of supervision.

Nine Army Readiness and Mobilization Regions which have been subordinate headquarters to the Continental Armies have been eliminated, and two new Armies, Fourth and Second Armies have been created bringing the total number of Continental United States Armies to five.

Much of the increased responsibility after the reorganization will be placed in the State Adjutants General and major U.S. Army Reserve Commands, such as the 425th Transportation Brigade located at Fort Sheridan, and the 86th U.S. Army Reserve Command based in Forest Park.

The current reorganization started in 1983 with the activation of Headquarters, Second U.S. Army at Fort Gillem, Ga., entered a second major phase with the provisional activation of Fourth United States Army at Fort Sheridan on July 2, and refinements and modifications will continue into Fiscal Year 1986.

With minor exceptions, the new Continental U.S. Army's boundaries will align with current Federal Emergency Management Agency region boundaries.

This will optimize the span of control and facilitate planning, coordination of disaster assistance operations and land defense of the United States. Fourth Army's area includes the states of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin; which were formerly included under the Fifth U.S. Army's area of responsibility.

CORRECTION

Because of a source mistake, the Antioch News was misinformed and reported that there were two passengers in the car driven by Arthur Wertz that was involved in a fatal accident on Rte. 173, on Sept. 21.

A recheck with the original information source the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. revealed that all three passengers were riding in the pick-up truck that was struck by the Wertz car when it went into the other traffic lane.

Although the sheriff's report states that Wertz had suffered a stroke previous to the time of the accident, Lake County Dep. Coroner Lloyd DeTienne said, "At the present time there is no evidence to show the Mr. Wertz suffered a stroke at the time of the accident."

CPR Class

A cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered as a public service at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rte. 59 in Lake Villa, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 13, in the community room.

Registration fee is $2, and must be paid no later than Friday, Oct. 5. Call (312) 578-2702 for more information. Class will be limited to 20 participants.

The class will be taught by instructors certified by the American Heart Assn. This public service education program is sponsored by St. Therese Hospital and the Northern Illinois Emergency Physicians (NIEP) who staff the hospital's Emergency Room in Waukegan and the emergency satellite in Lake Villa.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Husband and Father, Melvin J. Wohlfeil, who passed away one year ago, September 29th, 1983.

The very echo of your name
The memory of your smile
The little things you said and did are with us all the while
We miss those wonderful nights of pinocle games, the ache is still there, but we know God needed you more than we did.
Your family and friends miss you more every day.
With emptiness in our hearts, and tearful eyes, we miss and love you very much Pa, Always.
